I've subscribed to a mailing list from Cyndi's list that tells me new links that were added to her site in the previous 24 hours. If you'd like to know what's been added to her site recently, she has a category for that here: <http://www.cyndislist.com/whatsnew/>

A DEAL: I downloaded the PAID version of Goo Reader because I wanted to be able to save the book (or part of a book) in PDF format (the free version doesn't allow this). The paid version was $19.95, but I found a coupon on this site and got it for $9.98 (I can load it on THREE computers too). The coupon code is "techishare" when ordering (see link):
<http://www.techishare.com/discounts/manage-google-books-with-gooreader-50-discount-codes-included/>

I found new images of original records in Hardin County Kentucky by revisiting the USGENWEB site for Hardin County Kentucky:
<http://www.kygenweb.org/hardin/> and reading about the images on the Hardin County government site:

<http://www.hccoky.org/eSearch/LandRecords/protected/SrchQuickName.aspx>

and all this after I did a Google BOOK search and found information on an ancestor in a book that didn't even show the WHOLE book on the site:

http://books.google.com/books?id=tcM40zgdAZgC&printsec=frontcover&dq=adventurers+of+purse+and+person&hl=en&ei=1D_pTbTKE6PY0QGG09ikAQ&sa=X&oi=book_result&ct=result&resnum=1&ved=0CDUQ6AEwAA#v=onepage&q&f=false

Finding that book was what made me cough up the $$ for the Goo Reader that lets me save to PDF and print the pages I wanted. That book IS available on Amazon.com, but they're asking $90 for each Volume, and WorldCat shows the closest library to have the book is in Little Rock. My $10 purchase seemed cheap in comparison!
