Dear Members and Friends:
This will be my last report to you as president of the Tennessee Genealogical Society. I assure you it has been most gratifying for me to have the cooperation of the Executive Board and all of our volunteer workers. They have continually worked to make our society and its library grow bigger and better, which should enable us to offer you more help in the future.

We feel that our seminar this fall was very successful. Your response to it indicates your interest, and the information given to us by Mr. Robert Young Clay should be very beneficial to all of us. Mr. Clay has given us a transcript of his lecture, which will be placed in our library for your use.

During the month of October, we co-sponsored with the Memphis Public Library and Information Center a weekly series of lectures on genealogy. It was received with enthusiasm by the community, and the large attendance attests to the growth in popularity of our subject.

Our library will be closed until January 8, 1976. This is our time for inventory and the change of officers. The following officers have been elected for 1976-1977.

| President | Mrs. Charles R. Barham, Jr. |
| :--- | :--- |
| Vice-President | Mr. Charles Speed |
| Recording Secretary | Mrs. Richard McKitrick |
| Corresponding Secretary | Mrs. Hayes Carmical |
| Treasurer | Mr. S. Caya Phillips |
| Librarian | Mrs. John D. Tyus |
| Editor | Mrs. Vivian Briggs |
| Associate Editor | Mrs. Gene F. Davis |
| Director of Research | Mrs. Lynn Cravens |
| Advisor | Mrs. Laurence Gardiner |
| Advisor | Mrs. Charles R. Gilley |

May our incoming officers have a very successful term.

NOTES FROM THE EDITOR＇S DESK

This final issue of 1975 is also the final issue under my editorship．The past two years have been a wonderful educational period for me．I have had the help of many friends，who have given of their time and talents to keep me from defaulting，but none have been more loyal than Mr．Thomas Proctor Hughes，Jr．Thank you，Tommy！ The magazine will be in the capable hands of Mrs．Vivian Briggs and her staff，who will carry on in the traditional fine fashion of＂Ansearchin＇＂News．Godspeed， Vivian！

BOOK REVIEWS
Reviewed by Herman L. Bogan
THE BOGGAN FAMILY, Patrick, Benjamin, James and Their Sister Jane, Including Pertinent Facts of North Carolina History. Compiled by Frances Henrietta Bingham Krechel. 1975. Soft backs. Over 150 pages. Indexed. Order from the Author, 42443 Thornton Ave., Hemet, Ca. 92343. $6.50.

Four unmarried young people from Donegal, Northern Ireland appeared in Orange County, North Carolina. It is thought that they were attracted by one Patrick Boggan who died there in 1756 and a William Boggan who bought a farm in Rowan County in 1757 and died in Berkley Co., S.C. in $1762 \ldots$ uncles perhaps. The four young people were the children of Walter and Lydia (Moore) Boggan who had died in Ireland. By the time of the Revolutionary War, Benjamin had gone to Va. Patrick, James, and their brother-in-law, Thomas Wade and his wife Jane Boggan Wade were in Anson County, N.C. Patrick became Captain and Thomas Wade Colonel of the militia. Patrick married Mary Dobbs of Wake Co., N.C. and James married Jennie $\qquad$ in Orange Co. Little is known concerning Benjamin except that he was a member of a Va. regiment during the Revolution. The book is well done and contains many historical facts of the Revolutionary period in N.C.

THE DESCENDANTS OF JOHN FROST, JR. AND REBECCA YORK FROST OF JACKSON COUNTY, MISSOURI. Published by Earle W. Frost. 1975. Hard backs. Over 200 pages. Indexed. Order from the Author, 501 East 54 St., Kansas City, Missouri 64110. $10.00.

Judge Frost picked up his family's genealogy where it had been dropped by Wright W. Frost in his book, "The Frosts And Related Families of Bedford County, Tennessee 1962". The author's great grandparents, John Frost, Jr. and Rebecca York Frost had nine living children, as shown by the 1850 census. One of this nine was the author's grandfather, Jonathan Marion Frost. This man, shortly after his marriage on Nov. 2, 1871, left his family home in Jackson County, Mo. and went to Marshall Co., Kansas where a sister and her husband had resided since 1860 and his mother since 1863. In Kansas Judge Frost was born and reared. His genealogy, in which he has accepted the challenge to "take it from here" is as well done as his kinsman's publication on their family.

WAR OF 1812 SOLDIERS OF MAURY COUNTY, TENNESSEE by Jill K. Garrett. 1975. Soft covers. Over 230 pages. Indexed. Order from The Jane Knox Chapter, DAR, 322 W. 7 th St., Columbia, Tenn. 38401. $8.50.

Maury County was established Nov. 16, 1807, and the first call for young men of the county to serve their country was issued during the far of 1812 and the Creek War. Tennessee became known as the "Volunteer State" during these wars and many men from Maury Co. responded. Ten companies were formed from the $1 ; 964$ free white males in the county. The publication lists 1,335 soldiers and patriots from the county, of which 58 died or were killed in battle. Two men from Maury were killed at the battle of New Orleans (out of seven). The volunteers ranged from generals to privates, future sheriffs to horse thieves, spies, ferriers, trumpeters, Revolutionary War soldiers, future Confederate Soldiers, the father of a president of the U.S., two black slaves, one Indian, the richest man of the county and perhaps the poorest. The birthdates available showed that the majority of these soldiers were fourteen and fifteen years old! The book is a valuable addition to a Tennessee Genealogist's library.

CORRECTION: The price of GAFFIN FAMILY, Statistical and Biographical Sketches, by Catherine Gaffin Lynn, reviewed in Vol. 22, No. 3, should read $7.00.

COWETA COUNTY CHRONICALS FOR ONE HUNDRED YEARS. Edited and compiled by Mary G. Jones and Lily Reynolds. 1928. Hard covers. Over 867 pages. Indexed. Order from Newman-Coweta County Historical Society, P. 0. Box 1001, Newman, Georgia 30263 or Southern Historical Press, \% The Rev. Emmett Lucas, Jr., P. 0. Box 229, Easley, South Carolina 29640. $24.00.

Spoken of as a "small part" of the history of Coweta County, this huge volume is nevertheless both comprehensive and individual in its coverage of the county's history. The information is interesting and well told, and depicts the beginning and continuing of a wonderful Georgia community. The authors have pictured the life of a people and listed their names in a work of love. Here is a feast for the genealogist.

FOUR STEPS WEST, Compiled by James W. Sames III. 1971. Hard covers. Over 140 pages. Indexed. Order from the Author, Route #1. Versailles, Ky. 40383. $10.00.

This publication is a documentary concerning the boundary line between the states of Virginia and North Carolina, Kentucky and Tennessee. A historical outline of the New World gives the background of a most intriguing question, "Which side of the line do I live on?" The author in fifteen packed chapters poses this very human question and tells how it was answered. This reviewer's genealogical background has made him familiar with some of the oddities of these lines, but not to the extent revealed here. Much technical background material is given and many names are listed, which could help many genealogists.

CAPTAIN GEORGE BARBER OF GEORGIA, by David W. Morgan. 1975. Soft covers. Over 170 pages. Indexed. Order from the Author, Box 740, Cedar Park, Texas 78613. $8.00.

This book is divided into three parts: I-Descendants of George and Margaret (Watkins) Barber; II-Allen and Frances H. (Crawford) Barber; III-Benjamin and Eliza (Berryhill) Posey. Shortly before the Revolution, Capt. George Barber and his wife Margaret Watkins moved from Augusta County, Va., where they married in late 1766 or early 1767, to the Wake-Johnston Counties area of N.C. Later they moved to present day Wilkes County, Ga. George served as a Lt. and Capt. in the Revolutionary War and as Lt. Colonel in the Creek Indian War. He and Margaret were the parents of seven sons and three daughters. George died in Oglethorpe Co., Ga. in 1822 and Margaret died in Henry Co., Ga. in 1830. Eighteen chapters of wills, deeds, and documented evidence makes this a very complete and comprehensive genealogy.

JACK AND JILL, A Study in Our Christian Names, by Ernest Weekley. 1939. Republished 1974. Hard backs. Over 207 pages. Indexed. Order from Gale Research Company, Book Tower, Detroit, Mich. 48226. $6.50.

This scholarly approach to names given to (or inflicted upon) children is the result of the author's collection acquired through fifty years of teaching. Originally published in England, it deals with names commonly used there, but brings in many historical and foreign influences which have colored or altered them. The author does not claim to have included all Christian names in use, nevertheless, a very large number are recorded here.

RICHARDSON ROWLAND (1791-1872) And His Family of Wilson County, Tennessee and Caldwell County, Kentucky by Richard C. Sheridan. 1975. Soft backs. Over 50 pages. Not indexed. Order from the Author, 105 Terrace St., Sheffield, Alabama 35660. $5.00.

Richardson Rowland was born in N.C. about 1791. His parents, brothers and sisters are unknown to the author, but it is known that he moved to Wilson Co., TN at an early age. He served two termsin the army during the War of 1812, married Mary Neal, and reared a family of ten children in Wilson County. About 1855 the Rowlands moved to Caldwell Co., KY. The family was mostly Southern in its sympathies during the Civil War, but Richardson claimed to have taken no part on either side. His sons and grandsons, however, were involved. He died in August 1872 in Caldwell Co., KY, leaving a second wife as his widow. The family is found today widely scattered over the United States.

JOHNSOi COUNTY TENNESSEE CENSUS RECORDS, 1840-1850 by Walter W. Wilson. 1974. Soft backs. Over 145 pages. Indexed. Order from the Author, Walter W. Wilson, 1451 Iris St., A-18, Los Alamos, New Mexico 87544. $6.25.

The 1840 census was the sixth census of the United States, but the first for Johnson County, which was erected in 1836 as the extreme northeast county in Tennessee. It was taken from Washington Co., which contains the earlier records of Johnson County. The information in this first census is listed under thirteen categories, and the format and printing of the publication is excellent.

HINTON AND RELATED FAMILY HISTORY, Second Edition, Volume One by George Washington Hinton. 1971. Soft covers. Over 225 pages. Indexed. Order from the author, 5116 Dogwood Dr., Evertt, Washington 98203. $7.50.

Mr. Hinton has written two volumes of history on the Hinton/Hynton family. This publication is the second edition of the first volume and contains additional information, corrections and revisions which have been gathered since the first edition was published. Volume I covers the early English ancestral records and all proven lines. The Hinton name is derived from the Hyntons of the Norman invasion of England. Volume II, containing 350 pages and priced at $$ 10.00$ is also available. It is concerned with those lines of no proven ties to the Norman line.

A SEED-BED OF THE REPUBLIC, EARLY BOTETOURT by Robert Douthat Stoner. 1962. Second edition. Hard backs. Over 680 pages. Indexed. Order from the Roanoke Historical Society, Roanoke, Va. No address or price given.

Botetourt County, Va. was formed in 1770, and its original boundary extended from the Blue Ridge Mountains to the Mississippi and the Great Lakes. A vast majority of the early settlers of that entire area either lived in, or passed through, what remained of the county after the divisions of 1772. Not only is the author a native of Botetourt, but he was also Clerk of the Court for 21 years. This background has enabled him to compile official records of government, churches, agriculture, roads, maps, taverns, mills and many other facets of life on the frontier, a fact which makes his book interesting to the historian as well as to the genealogist.

THE GOODSPEED HISTORIES OF LAWRENCE, WAYNE, PERRY, HICKMAN AND LEWIS COUNTIES, TENNESSEE. Republished 1975. Hard backs. Over 175 pages. Not indexed. Order from the Woodward and Stinson Printing Co., Columbia, Tenn. $8.50.

This is a reprint of a portion of the 1886 Goodspeed History of Tennessee. Following printing practices of grouping territorially related counties together, these counties of Middle Tennessee are published as a single book. Many names of early settlers are listed in the historical section of each county, and the biographical appendix adds family data on some citizens living in the mid 1800's.

TOMBSTONE INSCRIPTIONS OF NOXUBEE COUNTY, MISSISSIPPI, by The Noxubee County Historcal Society, E. Q. Richards Project Chairman. 1975. Soft backs. Over 305 pages. Indexed. No address or price given.

This Bi-Centennial publication lists most of the tombstone inscriptions found in the white graveyards in Noxubee County. "These are the records of many of Noxubee County's people....They have begotten her sons and daughters,....and they have loved, and laughed, and wept and died in Noxubee County. And we, their posterity, cherish and seek to preserve their memory." Listings with accurate geographical locations include Church and Community Cemeteries Currently Being Used; Church and Community Cemeteries--Discontinued; Family and Private Cemeteries.

THE STEPHENS FAMILY with the Descendants of William Barnet Stephens by Pat Trask. 1975. Soft covers. Over 52 pages. Mimeographed. Not indexed. Order from Mrs. John E. Trask, 26814 A South Mooney Blvd., Visalia, Calif. 93277. $2.00.

This is a well documented family book concerned with William Barnet Stephens and his descendants. It is made in notebook form in order that additions may be made as the information is gathered and edited. William was born in Bedford County, Tennessee, in 1816, and died in 1873. He married about 1837, Elizabeth Ann Huston, who was born in 1822 and died in 1850. William's second wife was Irene Crenshaw who was born 1822 and died 1893. Of their six children the author has traced only two families to the seventh generation. She invites other members of the family to contribute their lines. Allied family sketches include Hix, Hutson, Langston, Smith, Boone/Coleman, Bearden, Wiseman and Merrill.

FLACK FAMILY HERITAGE. 1975. Collected and written by Ivarea Flack. Hard backs. Over 122 pages. Not indexed. Order from the author, Rt. 3, Box 506, Rutherfordton, North Carolina, 28139. $20.00.

James Flack was born in northern Ireland in 1708 and migrated to America in 1733. He settled in Phildelphia, where he married Ann Baxter the following year. Their children were named John, James, William, Andrew, Thomas, Joseph, George and Sarah. Their two oldest sons, John and William died in infancy, but their names were given to later sons. Five of their children moved to North Carolina. John and William settled in Rutherford Co.; Andrew went to Guilford Co. and James to Rockingham Co.; Sister Sarah married John Anderson, and they later followed Andrew to Guilford Co. Thomas moved to Ky. Ann Baxter's family, David and Ester McDowell Baxter were from Scotland. Ann's brother, William, moved to Meckinburg Co., N. C. From these people, the author traces the many Flack-Baxter descendants and names their allied families. She has put together a wonderful book with many family pictures, transcripts of original records and newspaper reports and obituaries.

JOHNSTON COUNTY NORTH CAROLINA COUNTY COURT MINUTES, 1787-1792. Book IV, Transscribed and Reproduced by Weymette Parks Haun. 1975. Soft Covers. Over 142 pages. Indexed. Order from the author, 243 Argonne Drive, Durham, North Carolina 27704. $$ 15.00$.

This is the latest of four consecutive volumes which have been added to the library of the Tenn. Genealogical Society. The information is from microfilm C.056.30002, Part 1, 1784-1790, and part 2, 1790-1793, both of which were filmed by the North Carolina Dept. of Archives and Manuscripts, Raleigh, N.C. Court minutes are valuable sources, but very difficult to read and are never indexed completely. The author has made a great contribution to genealogists in this series.

RIVERSIDE CEMETERY INSCRIPTIONS 1830-1875, JACKSON, TENNESSEE. Published by MidWest Tennessee Genealogical Society, Jackson, Tennessee. 1975. Soft backs. Over 121 pages. Indexed. Order from publisher. $6.00.
"Here Sleep The Founders of Jackson," so says a plaque at the entrance to historic and beautiful Riverside Cemetery in southwest Jackson, Tenn. This publication is the first since the WPA's inventory in the 1930's and it contains graves that were missed and burials made since that date. A brief history says that the early village graveyard was on a "sand branch"; the Riverside plot was donated by a Mr. Lancaster, who came from Virginia about 1828 and established himself at Jackson. The first body buried in the old graveyard was that of Washington Bledsoe. The most legible, ancient stone in Riverside reads: "Sacred to the memory of Elijah Bigelow", dated Jan. 1830. Until 1878, the cemetery was known as the Jackson Graveyard.

STRANGE, Descendants of Seth Strange and Allied Families of Franklin Co. Georgia by George Garnett Strange and Joseph T. Maddox. 1975. Soft backs. Over 150 pages. Indexed. Order from Joseph T. Maddox, Irwinton, Georgia 31042.

The information in this book was gathered by George Garnett Strange of Franklin Co., Georgia, and was published by Joseph T. Maddox after Mr. Strange's death. The book is in two sections. The first section is about Seth Strange and his descendants and allied families. Section two consists of a series of sketches concerning the Strange family in England, Scotland, Wales, France and, primarily, in America. Some of the Stranges were Huguenots. Certainly the book will benefit hundreds of this family throughout the nation.

SIXTY YEARS IN TEXAS, Second Edition. 1908 by George Jackson. Reprint 1975. Hard Backs. 384 pages. Not indexed. Order from Nortex Press, P. O. Box 120, Quanah, TX 79252.

This is a saga of the pioneers who settled Dallas County, Texas before 1848. Mr. Jackson has given a vivid description of his parents and their children, who left kith and kin in England and came with the Peters Colony to Texas. Their story along with accounts of neighboring families', Indian attacks, Civil War tales, and church histories attest to the endurance and steadfastness of the people who settled that state. George Jackson has told about many of them, and has included their portraits when available.

OUR HORNER ANCESTORS, William of Fayette County, Pa., son of Thomas of Baltimore County, Md. Compiled by Virginia Horner Hinds. 1974. Soft covers. 268 pages. Indexed. Order from the author, 334 Robin Road, Waverly, Ohio 45690. $8.50.

This is a very nice family genealogy spanning the years 1700 to 1973. The book contains Horner records and allied lines of Preston, Gilbert, Mitchell, Snively, West, Moore, Swearingen, and Bumbarner. The publication is a Maryland Historical Society Document first place award. The reader will find maps, pictures and poems interspersed among the biographies, which makes interesting reading as well as unique and valuable genealogy.

COMPUTERIZED ORGANIZATION & DISPLAY OF GENEALOGICAL DATA: DALE FAMILIES OF TENNESSEE Compiled by Margaret Dale, 248 W. Pamela Rd., Arcadia, CA 91006

Text and Computer Programming by
Austin H. Montgomery, Jr., Associate Professor, West Virginia University
Each of the various methods of organizing and displaying genealogical data has strong and weak points. For example, the group sheet shows good detail and relationship in the immediate family, but it does not lend itself to the location of individuals. Also, it does not easily show relationships among groups. Pedigree charts show relationship and detail fairly well, but they do not ease the search for individuals, and they exclude all but direct ancestors and descendants through a single child. Alphabetized lists can readily locate individuals and give as much detail as desired, but they are weak on the explanation of relationship. Often a combination of these methods is needed to make the information useful.

In order to better organize and display genealogical data, an attempt has been made to utilize the computer to produce a single document which will retain the advantages of the various organization and display techniques and will avoid some of the disadvantages. A method was developed to alphabetize genealogical names, provide concise vital statistics, indicate the source of information, and to include cross-references showing the relationships of persons listed. The method was designed to permit individuals to be added as a metter of routine.

The organization of data for this procedure is quite easy. Existing standard methods of record keeping easily yield the information required. Isolated data on index cards $0=$ from letters can be absorbed into this system fairly rapidly. Any number of persons may participate in the compilation of the data, so this procedure may be used as a tool by members of family and surname associations. Because very little coordination is necessary, compilers may be remotely located from each other. If the information furnished by the compilers inadvertently overlaps, this fact will rapidly become evident when the first draft is reviewed and correction can easily be made. The procedure lends itself to organizing and displaying data on persons who are closely related and on individuals and families who are not all known to be related, but who have a common characteristic such as association with a common surname.

To demonstrate this technique, information was gathered on several hundred persons named DALE/DAIL, along with their spouses. All persons listed were associated with Tennessee through their residence or that of their ancestors or descendants. Persons born after 1850 generally were excluded.

Preparation of the data for this methodology was fairly straight forward. In general, it may be taken directly from group sheets, family records, tombstone records, church records, county histories, letters, pedigree charts, and similar documents. Fig. 1 illustrates the necessary form.

Figure 1 is called a coding form in computer terminology. Its columns show the exact locations in which the data are to be placed on punched cards for transmission of information to the computer. Consider line 13. Columns 1 through 4 have been alloted for numbering each indiviual for quick reference. Columns 5 through 24 are for listing the person's name. Columns 25 through 35 are for imparting vital statistics; two other sets of statistics are provided for in columns 36 through 46 and 47 through 57. These show that James Dail probably was born in the 1790's and that he is known to have married in 1817 in Knox County, Tennessee.

Columns 58-62 show that references 2 and 8 are the sources of the information about James Dail on this line. Columns 63-68 indicate that the person listed on line 14 was his spouse. Similarly, columns $69-74$ show that the person listed on line 12 may have been his father.

Lines $300-2$ and 336 were added long after line 13 was written. At that time it was realized that supplemental data were needed to show relationships with these earlier entries. In the case of line 336 , the purpose was to show that the individuals numbered 270 and 272 were children of James Dail.

Such information may be transcribed from records with little alteration. The cross-references are not unduly troublesome as the close relatives may be listed sequentially thus permitting a quick search to pick the appropriate number to appear in the right portion of the line.

However, the data are not useful in this form. No attempt has been made to alphabetize it and doing so would ordinarily involve placing each name on a card to be physically located in the correct order. Even after that major task the compiler would find the job of making the cross-references extremely difficult. Certainly such a procedure would not lend itself to the addition of more names once a person had received a number and the cross-referencing was done. These problems explain why such a list is not presently used by genealogists.

The computer easily eliminated the difficulties and disadvantages just described. After data was compiled as shown in figure 1, each line was placed on a punched card. This was done with a key punch machine, which is similar to a typewriter in operation. The key punch has an advantage over the typewriter, however, because cards containing errors may be discarded and replaced with others correctly punched. Figure 2 shows a punched card. Each card may contain only one line of information. The holes in the card are the machine translation of the written message across the top.

Fig. 2--A punched card containing genealogical information
The computer alphabetizes the names and corrects the cross-references to allow for the new location of all names. This results in a printed page which may be used as a master in off-set printing to provide as many copies as desired. Alternately, a multilith master may be placed directly in the computer's printer to receive the information generated.

Infromation easily may be added for subsequent computer runs. All that is needed is the addition of more cards. The program was designed to process 5,000 names and this number may be increased if desired.

The computer costs are relatively small. For the data processed below, a cost of $$ 4.60$ was incurred, equalling $$ 0.51$ per master page.

This computer program has been designed to use coded and abbreviated data in order to maximize the amount of information presented. This was done deliberately and is not an intrinsic feature of computers. It is recognized that some persons object to the close reading and reference to explanations and tables of abbreviations inherent to such procedures. They may easily be accomodated by eliminating some of the data and spelling out the remainder in more detail. For example, in addition to the person's number and name, additional information might be limited to the following:
B. 1883, LAWRENCE CO., IND., SOURCE NO. 65, 76 SPOUSE, 57 FATHER, 58 MOTHER

A group wanting to use the method demonstrated in this article may find that a local college or university is often willing to make its computer and key punch machines available on a reimbursable basis. The university computer center will tell the customer the steps that me must take in presenting cards and receiving printouts. The computer center normally will provide limited amounts of advice in regard to programming. Highly skilled students normally can be hired for this purpose at very nominal wages.

The remainder of this article is devoted to displaying computerized data on the DALES/DAILS of Tennessee. The authors are willing to correspond with persons making inquiries and they are prepared to accept additional DALE/DAIL data for a possible sequel to this article. Preferably, submitted data should resemble figure 1 as much as possible, but any form will be accepted.

DALES OF TENNESSEE  Explanation of Listed Data

The information listed below is abbreviated and coded, making it necessary for the reader to refer to this and other pages for full explanation. In the case of county abbreviations, an almanac or similar reference work is advisable.

Individuals--Sometimes the name of an individual is repeated several times so that more cross-references may be given. Such individuals are marked ---1, ---2, etc. A different person is significant if this numbering systerm ceases or starts over again.with 1.

If a woman has the notation "(M)" after her name, this means that her maiden name is unknown and the married name has been provided.

Events-B, M, D, and L mean born, married, died, and living, respectively. C means circa and a question mark indicates even less certainty. States are abbreviated by the two-letter U. S. Postal code and EN means England. The counties typically are abbreviated by the first two or three letters of their names. If this is not sufficient to distinguish them, they are marked with asterisks and the abbreviations are defined at the end of the listing.

Sources--The sources are listed in numerical order at the end of the article. Relationships--An example is " 318 F ", which means that the person listed on line $\overline{318}$ is the father of the person named on the line being read. Other abbreviations are: S--spouse, C--child, X--sibling, and M--mother. Question marks show uncertainty about the relationship.

County Abbreviations

In general, the counties referenced in the listing are abbreviated by the first two or three letters. If this is not sufficient to distinguish them from other counties, special abbreviations are provided. The following is a list of those counties with such abbreviations.

ABSTRACTS OF KENTUCKY BIOGRAPHIES Submitted by Grace Hall Upshaw (Mrs. J. D.)

In 1885, W. H. Perrin, J. H. Battle and G. C. Kniffen published their first edition of KENTUCKY: A HISTORY OF THE STATE. In 1972, the Kentucky Reprint Company published a facsimile reprint of Part II which contains histories and biographies of the Jackson Purchase area. The abstracted biographies which follow show some connection with Tennessee in the life of the subject. Because these are abstracts and are not complete quotes, the researcher should refer to the original book for complete information. Abbreviations used are as follows:

This cemetery is located on LaGrange & Somerville Road, on a bluff overlooking the North Fork of Wolf River. It contains many unmarked graves, but only four markers. Three are for members of Mr. Ashford's family. They are:

WILLIAM GREENdeparted this lifeJuly 9, 1842Age 68 yrs.

ELIZABETH J. GREEN
Consort of William Green
died Feb. 12, 1848
Age 66 yrs.

EDNA ANN LOVING
Died Jan. 31st, 1853 In the 33rd year of her age

Mr. Ashford states that William Green migrated from Virginia and was an early resident of Fayette Co. He had three sons, James F. Green, Dr. Alfred L. Green, and Ira N. Green. He also had three daughters, Martha Green Winston, Anne I. Harris, and Edna Ann Loving. This cemetery had disappeared from sight until Mr. Ashford located it early this fall.
